Five Hong Kong rock superstars combine their musical powers in HK Band Live In Genting

The concert brings Joey Tang, Paul Wong, Danny Summer, Pal Sinn and Jun Kung together for the first time ever in Malaysia

Genting Highlands, 28 June 2018 – Nostalgia is a great force, and newly-formed Hong Kong rock band HK Band offers that powerful appeal in spades. The five members of the band are not fresh faces, but legendary names that defined and redefined the Hong Kong rock scene in the 1980s and 1990s – Joey Tang, Paul Wong, Danny Summer, Pal Sinn and Jun Kung. The charismatic quintet performed together for the first time this year at the Hong Kong Coliseum in two sold-out concerts on June 7 and 8, and will be bringing their electrifying musical energy to Malaysia for the first time ever at Resort World Genting's Arena of Stars on October 6, 2018 in the HK Band Live In Genting concert.

Each of HK Band's members is a superstar in his own right in the Hong Kong music scene. Joey Tang was one of the first pioneers of Hong Kong rock, starting his first band Trinity in 1979 and joining Tai Chi as guitarist in 1985, a band that rocketed to fame overnight. Beyond his frontman career, Tang also works as a producer, composer and guitarist for many other Hong Kong singers. Also from the same Hong Kong Band-Booming era is Paul Wong, the lead guitarist of Beyond, who also served as the band's songwriter and vocalist. Known for their enduring hit Boundless Ocean, Endless Sky, Wong has also charted his own solo career and formed a band named Hann with fellow HK Band musician Jun Kung.

Jun Kung himself is a legendary drummer in Hong Kong, having performed in the touring bands for Jacky Cheung, Eason Chan, Faye Wong, Sandy Lam and Karen Mok, among others, as well as pursuing a solo singing career with four well-received albums and as a movie soundtrack composer. Pal Sinn is better known as an actor, but began his career as the bassist for rock band Blue Jeans and has maintained his close connections with the Hong Kong rock scene over the decades. Rounding up the quintet is Danny Summer – the Father of Hong Kong Rock'n'Roll – who arguably created the territory's rock scene with his 1979 debut album Childhood, and redefined it again with his covers album To Know Well.

The concert at Resorts World Genting promises to be a spectacle of surprise and satisfaction, as the five musicians dive deep into their catalogues for fan favourite songs. At the Hong Kong Coliseum concerts, HK Band moved between playing as group in classic songs such as Tai Chi's Every Sentence, indulging in electrifying solos in a cover of Deep Purple's Highway Star, to solo performances such as Jun Kung's acoustic version of Within You'll Remain, originally by Hong Kong band Chyna. For fans of Hong Kong rock's glory days, this promises to be a night like no other.
